

To whom it may concern,

It is a privilege for me to write this letter of recommendation for Jake Horowitz. I have been Jake's baseball coach with Dinger baseball for the last 7 years. Jake has always been very respectful, always ready to listen, dedicated, hard-working, competitive, and very well-liked and respected among his peers.

Jake has always had the ability to play baseball at a high level. These last 2 years he has really taken big steps in that direction. He has made great strides in both offense and defense. Jake is a very solid outfielder. He has above-average speed. Probably one of his most improved assets on defense in the outfield now are the jumps he is getting off the bat. I know he has worked hard on becoming a better outfielder. Jake has a good arm and is accurate throwing to bases. Offensively, Jake has also improved greatly. He always puts together good at-bats. He seems to always see a lot of pitches and is never afraid to take his walks. Jake is a good line drive hitter with gap power. He is one of those hitters that seems to thrive in those clutch situations. He has had many big hits in big situations for us over the last few years. With the speed that Jake has he can also be very disruptive on the bases. He can steal bases and is always aggressive when on base trying to make something happen.

I strongly believe that Jake would be an asset to any college program. The talent, tools, motivation, and will to succeed are all there on the field and in the classroom.

Sincerely

Mark Bellhorn
